"As the Bonspiel is narrowing down to a close, and several of the skips are drawing mental pictures of the handsome Silver Trophy resting on their mantel piece, each risk is getting into its winning stride, and some very close scores are being hung up on the blackboard. Skips Brusso, Dr. Clarke, Hugot, Suder, Lowrie, Moyle, J. M. Reed, B-recht and Cancannon had entered the finals at the close of last week's playing, and are now struggling for their share of the fine lot of prizes in Mr. Studer's window. Skips Brusso, Studer, and J. M. Reed are taking first, second and third place in the order named."

Public School Literary

The regular monthly meeting of the Public School Literary Society was held in the school on Friday p.m., with president-elect, Miss Annie Eubank in the chair. Quite a number of the parents and friends of the pupils were present and a splendid program was rendered. It consisted of:

Chorus—"O Canada, by the school. Address by the President—Miss A. Eubank. Speech—"Queen Elizabeth" by Orville Geiger.

Piano solo—"Russell Herscht. Recitation—"Nyle Hunsperger. Speech—"India and its People," Tom Reid.

Chorus—"Boys and Girls. Instrumental—"Arnold. Liesemer. Dialogue, entitled "The Train to Mauro,"—taken by Miss Fern Stauffer, Frank Burrell and Donald Martin.

Speech, "Egypt and the Nile Valley"—George Bricker.

Instrumental—"Arnold. Liesemer. Instrumental—"Lena. McIntyre. Reading—"Kathleen Osmund.

Speech, "China and Chinese Customs"—Granville Paton.

Chorus—"by the Girls. Speech, "The Selkirk Colony"—Edgar Klahlolt.

Instrumental—"Willie Wood. Speech, "New Zealand"—Harlan Goehle.

Instrumental—"Ada Simon. Speech, "Mexico and the Mexicans"—Arthur Gugin.

Instrumental—"Evelyn. Liesemer. "God Save the King."

Special mention must be made of the dialogue, the artists performing their parts in a very creditable manner, and demonstrating that dramatic taste is not wanting in the boys and girls of our school.

The speeches by the boys are also worthy of special praise. Each speech, which was on some topic of interest from geography or history, was well prepared and given in good style, and reflected much credit on the youthful orators. Public speaking occupies a very prominent place on the curriculum of the public school, and it is being encouraged and practised in every way possible. The musical numbers and all other numbers were also much enjoyed.

The public is cordially invited to attend these monthly literary meetings. For the next, a debate is being arranged, and a good musical programme.

Britain—The World's Terminal

In the review of Great Britain's industrial and financial future, to which certain references were made in this column last week, Lord Northcliffe not only told the American reviewer of the ability being displayed in reorganizing the status of the industrial workers, and gave reasons why neither the United States nor any other country could succeed in taking away from Britain her supremacy in shipping, but he submitted a logical reason why England would continue to be the centre of world trade and finance. In this connection he said: "Americans who come to London arrive here not realizing that our small country, which you can almost put inside the state of New York, is merely the great terminal of nearly a hundred diverse sections comprising the British Empire. That Empire is roughly divided into half a dozen large nations, quite independent of England—the great collecting and distributing centre of the whole—if they choose to be independent. If Canada, or Australia, or New Zealand wish to run the connection themselves, they can do so without leaving any hand behind. Sometimes these are ruled talk between us, as there is between any other great business, but when it comes to what I understand you call a 'showdown,' it is seen that the business alliance is of the strongest."

"Never forget, too, we are linked by sentiment strong enough to make us to death itself, as the world has lately seen, when from the remote parts of Australia, and from such widely separated places as Central Africa, the Klondike and the Falkland Islands come these long Britons, who were not killed, who will give you an excellent stand-up business fight in South America and elsewhere. From all those places they flowed to France, to Palestine, to Egypt, to Asia, Minor, the first young people who formed a portion of the food and the armies of the British Empire, which numbered nearly eight millions, and of whom 1,000,000 were killed and missing (and missing means dead), and of whom our losses in dead officers alone amounted to 50,000."

"A people like ours, backed up by practically every single war material the world contains, except I understand, perhaps, which seems one of recent weakness, no, have every year."

son for the silent confidence they feel in the future. In addition to our supply of raw material, we have the best skilled labor in the world. I say without hesitation that, mechanic for mechanic, ours are the best, for we have practically no aliens."

Financially, Lord Northcliffe agrees with some of the bank-brokers in England that Great Britain does not need to borrow further from the United States. The position of the five great British banking combinations, holding amongst them 85 per cent. of the deposits of the English banks is so strong that any present or immediate prospective British trade can be financed without seeking outside help, and it is not too much to say, says the editor of Wall Street Journal, who interviewed Lord Northcliffe, that the task the great British bankers (and no country possesses greater or perhaps as great) would like to turn immediate attention to, is paying off the British national debt to the United States, irrespective of what is owing to Great Britain by her allies. And in this connection it is worthy of note, and a source of British confidence in the future, that this year Great Britain will be able to provide all national expenditures out of current taxation and still be able to make a substantial reduction in the war debt.

Concluding his statement of the British position, Lord Northcliffe made reference to a well-known characteristic of the British race. He said: "We have many faults as a people. The French say that we have the faculty of putting our worst foot foremost. We are bad advertisers. We always like to grumble. It amuses one to notice how violently we grumble at a small business loss and how quietly we pocket a gigantic business achievement. We are not good 'boasters'; but I do happen to understand something about propaganda, and having the opportunity of speaking to a great body of business men through the Wall Street Journal, I would ask the many business friends I have made at business conventions in the United States to apply a large amount of salt to any dish served up by young and inexperienced cable correspondents who blow into London, and because they find an absence of the noise and rush to which they are accustomed at home, fail to realize that Mr. John Bull is back at his old stand and is about to give you a thoroughly lively time in many markets that you will find are not such easily cut corners as some of your enthusiasts believe."

All of which should help to dispart from the minds of Canadians, fed up with articles in the United States newspaper and magazine, press, any sort that Great Britain is in danger of losing her old-time position as leader in the world of finance, shipping, manufacturing and commerce.

New Diamond Fields

Tharing Will Be Proclaimed Open for Digging March 20

Tharing, a worthless, treeless and virtually gameless desert near Taung, in Bechuanaland, promises to be the scene of the biggest diamond claim-staking rush in South African history. It is understood that Tharing will be proclaimed open for diamond digging about March 20.

Amazing stories are afloat concerning the wonderful richness of the district, and prospective diggers from the Cape, and Mozambique, and even the Congo, are preparing to try their luck in the new field. Despite warnings of possible failure, men are abandoning good jobs in various parts of the country in order to be free to stake out claims when the proclamation is issued. Hundreds of women also are arranging to go to the new diggings.

The government is preparing to cope with the anticipated rush to Tharing, and a township to receive the new community is being laid out.

Taung is situated about forty miles south of Vryburg, and about one hundred miles north of Kimberley, the last-named place being famous for its great diamond mines.

British Government Offers Dominion Some Reparation Claims

In the material which the allies are requiring Germany to deliver as compensation for the loss of German battleships at Scapa Flow are several floating docks, dredges, hydraulic cranes, etc. It is understood that the British Government has made enquiry of the Canadian Government as to whether Canada would like to acquire any of these on account of Canada's reparation claims, and the matter is now being considered by the government.

Surveying by Aeroplane

The aeroplane in Tasmania has been used to survey a route for the erection of a transmission line capable of delivering 10,000 horsepower of electric current from the Great Lake Works to Launceston, a distance of 50 miles. No man has ever been through this part of the country. The aeroplane, which carried an engineer of the government hydro-electric department, traveled 180 miles, and flew over wild mountain peaks, rising to an altitude of 6,000 feet, over very heavily timbered country, numerous lakes, lagoons and rivers. Information, which in the ordinary way would have taken some months to obtain, owing to the forbidding nature of the country, was gained in a couple of hours.

Forward Movement-- Evangelical Association

An inspirational forward movement conference was held in the Evangelical church, Feb. 25-27. Rev. T. H. Wagner was the official chairman. Rev. B. R. Weiner of Napperville, Ill. was the principle speaker. The keynote of the conference and forward movement was struck by Rev. Weiner in his opening address on "The Spiritual Aspect of the Forward Movement." What is needed first of all is the deepening of the spiritual life of the church with reconverted prayer life. Rev. Weiner's addresses on the Missionary and Benevolent Enterprises, with the financial objections carried this note through with them. Evangelism, too, is over the need of the church and needs to be followed out with a just appreciation and value of souls.

Other ministers of Alberta, namely: Revs. C. S. Finkbeiner, F. E. Martin, W. B. Dennis, J. W. Himmelfarb, J. G. Baum, Grieshaber and A. Clemens gave addresses on the following subjects, respectively: "Enlistment of Trained Workers and their Adequate Support." "Our Women in Relation to the Forward Movement." "The S. S. and Y. P. A. in Relation to the Forward Movement." "The Word of God and the Prayer Life of the Church." "God's Ownership and Man's Stewardship." "Education in the Life of the Church." and "The Devotional Life in the Home." The message for the whole membership is this, "Sanctify yourselves, for tomorrow God will do wonders through you."

Country Hockey.

The two country teams, Dog Pond and Rossburg, have clashed twice in hard fought games. The first was played on Wed., Feb. 25th, in which the Dog Pond was victorious. Score 5-2.

They played again on Monday March 1st, which resulted in a victory for Rossburg. Score 3-1.

The first period of this game was slow owing to the heavy fall of snow, neither side scored.

The second period Bob Wilson scored for Dog Pond. The third period the Rossburgs went on the ice determined to win. Bob Eabank scored two and Wilfred Shantz one, leaving the score 3-1 in favor of Rossburg.

These were very interesting games to watch for the towns were evenly matched. If the ice remains the deciding game to be played next week.

The gradual abatement of values to the vanishing point imposed upon Dave many business duties which he would very gladly have avoided. The office of Conward & Elden which had once been besieged by customers eager to buy, was now a centre of groups no less eager to sell and when they could not sell they contrived to lay the blame upon the firm which had originally sold to them. For the most part, these were men and women who had bought purely from the gambler's motive and had turned toward the real estate dealer as though he had done them an injustice when the first of fortune turned up a loss instead of a profit. For such people Dave had little sympathy, and if they persisted in their murmurings he told them to with because frankness. But there were cases that could not be turned aside with sharp answers. Bert Morrison, for instance, Bert had never mentioned her "investment" since the occasion already recorded, she greeted Dave with the sociability due to their longstanding friendship, and her calm avoidance of the subject hurt him more than the abuse of all his patrons. There was Merton, the widower with the red hair and the merciless boy, who had brought his little savings to the West in the hope of becoming a millionaire. With a clear atmosphere, and seeing his own clear death that had already surrounded their little town. With a cruelty almost unbelievable, Conward had talked this man into the purchase of property so far removed from the city as to possess no value except as farm land, and the little savings, which were to ward off sickness and death, or if that could not be, more modest comfort in the hellish hours of life, had been exchanged for property which, even at the best of the transaction, was the least and unsalable.

Merton had called on Dave with respect to his investment. Dave had at last been disposed to tell him frankly that the property for which he had paid twenty dollars a foot was barely worth that much an acre. But a second look at the man cancelled his purpose.

"I know you were stung, Merton," he said "shamelessly stung. You are one of those men, my friend, who think everybody is going to play fair with them. You belong to the class who have been so long deceived and surrounded in every circumstance. You might almost be charged with being glib, and I am sure to show how I feel about it—how much did you pay for these lots?"

"Three thousand dollars. It was all I had."

"Of course it was. If you had had more you would have paid more. I suppose Conward has paid more, with the argument that if he didn't take your easy money someone else would, which is doubtless true. But just to show how I feel about it, I'll buy those lots from you for three thousand dollars."

"I can't do it, Mr. Elden; I can't do it," said Merton, and there was moisture on his cheeks. That would be charity—and I can't take it. But I'm much obliged. It shows you're square, Mr. Elden, and I hold no ill-will to you."

"Well, can I help you in some way you will accept? I'm afraid I don't mean to be kind, but we may as well be frank—I'm afraid you won't need help very long."

Merton answered as one who has made up his mind to the inevitable, and Dave thought better of him. This little wreck of a man—this child in business matters—could look death in the face without a quiver.

"Not so long," he said. "I felt ever so much better when I came here first; I thought I was really going to be well again. But when I found that a mistake I had made I began to worry, not for myself, you know, but the boy, and worry is just what you trouble me to have. I have been working a lot, and boarding out, and the boy is going to school. But I can't do heavy work, and work of any kind is hard to get. I don't I can't keep that way."

Merton looked with dreary eyes through the office window, while Dave was turning over the hopelessness of his position, and inwardly cursing a system which made such conditions possible. Society protects the physically weak from the physically strong; the physical high-wind punishes people his deserts; but the mental high-wind punishes upon the weak and the innocent, and the innocent are the ones who are the most to be pitied.

Society votes him a good citizen and a success.

"I had a plan," Merton continued, half apologetically, as though his plan did him little credit. "I had a plan, but it can't be worked out. I have been trying to raise a little money on my lot, but the mortgage people just look at me."

"What is your plan?" said Dave, kindly. "Any plan, no matter how bad, is always better than no plan."

"I don't, even in that case, Merton," he said. "I thought if I could build a little shack on the lot I could live there and make a few dollars out of it."

"How much money?" demanded Dave.

"I had a hundred dollars—"

"Bring your title to me tomorrow; to me, personally, you understand. I'll see about it."

Merton sprang up, and there was more enthusiasm in his eyes than had been seen in him since he had first come to the city.

"You don't need that much—"

"Then use the surplus to live on."

So the Merton affair was straightened away in a manner which left Dave more at ease with his conscience.

But another event, much more dramatic and far-reaching in its effects upon his life, was already ripe for the catching.

Business conditions had necessitated unwelcome economy in the office of Conward & Elden, as a result of which several old employees had been laid off, and others had been released by change and less experience.

Among the latter, one of the most experienced and reliable of the firm's employees, a young woman who had been receiving a hundred dollars a month could not readily bring them to an account at the end of the month, and had to make way for new girls, fresh from the business colleges. Such a girl was Gladys Norwood, a girl like the others, inexperienced. Her country home had offered an answer to her ambitions, and she had come to the city with the most dangerous equipment a young woman can carry—an attractive face and an unshakable confidence in the goodness of humanity.

Conward had been responsible for her position in the office and Dave had given little thought to her, except to note that she was a willing worker and of comely appearance.

Returning to the office one Saturday evening Dave found Miss Norwood sitting at a table, her hands busy with a needle and thread. She was evidently in high spirits, and he smilingly asked if she intended working at home over Sunday.

"Oh, didn't Mr. Conward tell you?" she answered as though, surprised that the most news had been kept so secret. "He is going to send a day or two at one of the mountain hotels, and I am going along to do his housekeeping. Isn't it just lovely? I have to go to go to the mountains, and I never felt like that before. And now I can combine hard work with pleasure."

"I'm glad to hear of Dave's eyes, and his face became more set and stern than she had ever seen it. "Why, what's the matter, Mr. Elden?" she exclaimed. "Is anything wrong?"

He found it hard to meet her frank, unassuming eyes; had in draw back the curtains of the world so much that those eyes would never again be quite so frank and unassuming.

"Miss Norwood," he said, "did Conward tell you that?"

"What? About going to the mountains? Of course. He said he was taking some work with him, and he wondered if I would mind going along to do it, and would pay the expenses, and—"

There was a quick hard catch in her voice, and she stared Elden's arm

MOTHERS TO BE

Letter Published by

Mitchell, Ind.—"Lydia F. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me so much during the time I was looking forward to the coming of my little one that I am recommending it to other expectant mothers. Before taking it, sometimes I suffered with neuralgia so badly that I thought I could not live, but after taking three bottles of Lydia F. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was entirely relieved of neuralgia, I had gained in strength and was able to go around and do all my household work. My baby when seven months old weighed 14 pounds and I feel better than I have for a long time. I never had any medicine do me so much good."

"Mrs. PEARL MONYHAN, Mitchell, Ind."

Good health during maternity is a most important factor to both mother and child, and many letters have been received by the Lydia F. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., telling of health restored during this trying period by the use of Lydia F. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Her eyes were big and round; her pretty face had gone suddenly white.

"Oh, Mr. Elden, you don't think you don't think that—that he—you wouldn't believe that."

"I think you are absolutely innocent," he said, gravely, "but it's the innocent thing that gets caught. Suddenly, even in that case, Merton, his mind leaped over the gulf of years to the night when he had said to Irene Hardy, 'I don't know about the justice of God. All I know is the critic at can't run pets caught.'"

"It was so of poor, tubercular Merton; it was to be so of pretty Gladys Norwood."

But the girl had broken into violent tears. "Whatever shall I do—what can I do?" she moaned. "Oh, why didn't somebody tell me! What can I do?"

He let her passion run on for a few minutes, and then he said, "I don't think you can do much to win her back to some comfort. 'Someone has told you,' he said. 'You cut it. You don't have to go. Don't be afraid of anything. Conward may do. I will settle the score with him.'"

Principal of Saskatchewan Schools

What to Do When the Kidneys are Disturbed.

Wells, Sask., February 23—(Special.)—There is no more serious remedy for kidney disease and this remedy is Dodd's Kidney Pills is the outspoken opinion of Mr. George Huchinson, principal of the public schools here.

"I suffered for two years from diseased kidneys," Principal Huchinson states. "I was advised about a year ago to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. They have helped me more than any remedy I have ever tried. I find that my health has been greatly improved. I can confidently recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from kidney disease. I would not be without them."

Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. They help the kidneys to do their full work of straining all the impurities out of the blood. The result is new health and energy all over the body. Ask your neighbors about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Hemp Possibilities In Manitoba

A Huge Rope and Cordage Industry May Be Developed

Dr. W. J. Harrington, a member of the Manitoba Legislature, is of the opinion that Manitoba may become one of the world's largest hemp-producing districts, and as a result a huge rope and cordage industry may be developed in this province.

"Hemp grown in Dauphin district last summer," he says, "was from 12 to 14 feet high when harvested, and I am given to understand that the yield in relation to the seed used was as great, if not greater, than is to be found in any part of the world where the industry has been established for years. There is an opportunity here for Manitoba to come to the front as a rope, twine, cordage and paper manufacturing province, as all these things are manufactured of hemp fibre, and I would urge upon the government the necessity of giving earnest attention to the encouragement of the industry."

"I think you are absolutely innocent," he said, gravely, "but it's the innocent thing that gets caught. Suddenly, even in that case, Merton, his mind leaped over the gulf of years to the night when he had said to Irene Hardy, 'I don't know about the justice of God. One Big Union Takes Increase

A resolution stating that they are willing to accept the 14 per cent. increase in pay pending further negotiations which they insist must be entered into, has been adopted by the One Big Union mining district of Alberta, and forwarded to the Minister of Labor. The resolution also opposes the recent order of the fuel commission, requiring that all miners get a small bottle of deodorant, aching corn should relieve the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn, root and all, dries up and can be lifted out with the fingers.

This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Canadian miner, who says that, while freestone is sticky, it dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

Germany Defiant Over Trials Of War Criminals

Berlin.—Commenting on the allied note to Germany making concessions regarding the trial of Germans accused of war crimes, the Tagblatt says: "The avenging of the democratic spirit in England and Italy has had its effect in inducing the leaders of the entente to recede from their previous attitude on the extradition issue."

Vorwärts says that the note is more one of malice and other obnoxious, which are likely to lead to complications later, but it declares the document represents the victory of sanity.

The Vossische Zeitung expresses belief that neither the German nor the entente statement could have acted differently in the premises. It thinks the entente will do well in abstaining from interference with the trials Germany is to hold, as the allies will thus be spared "the ignominious defeat awaiting them in case they attempt to reaffirm their charges before an unbiased court."

The Pan Deutsche Zeitung finds the note unacceptable, and demands that it be met with "an unflinching 'No.'"

Predicts Another Great War

Henry Morgenthau Says U.S. Must Take Her Part in Settling Up Affairs in Europe

New York.—A warning that the United States will be involved in another European war within ten years, unless she accepts her share of responsibility of putting Europe and Asia on their feet again, was uttered by Henry Morgenthau, former ambassador to Turkey, in an address before the students of Columbia University.

Mr. Morgenthau declared that the United States in refusing to accept a mandate for Constantinople had lost an advantage which it can never gain.

After asserting that the magnificent talk of self-determination has all died away, and that the situation of Europe is "going back to the old order," the former ambassador continued: "Unless militarism is destroyed and the new order of things established, I predict that all you young men will be called upon again to bear arms in a European war, and that all of you who were too young two years ago will receive your first call for service."

Cataract Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by focal applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Cataract Deafness, that is, to use a concentration remedy, HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE, which, through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the Eustachian tube, causes the inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless this inflammation can be removed and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing may be destroyed forever. Many cases of Deafness are caused by Catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE, All Druggists, etc., Canadian Agents, Dr. J. A. Takes Action to Prevent Strikes

Berlin.—Gustave Noske, commander-in-chief for the greater Berlin district and Brandenburg province, has issued an order applying to Berlin and Brandenburg threatening imprisonment or a fine up to 50,000 marks for inciting persons, by speech or in writing, to stop work, which would affect the production or distribution of foodstuffs. The decree is directed against threatened strikes of the bakers and hotel keepers.

Changes In U. S. Immigration Laws

Would Make It Necessary for Aliens to Report and Register Every Year

New York.—Amendment of the immigration law so as to require aliens to register and report once a year to some federal official, is one of the several recommendations made to the National Republican Club by its subcommittee on immigration.

On repeal of the laws in certain western and southern states that permit aliens to vote who have only declared their intention to become citizens, stringent regulation of the foreign language press in the United States and creation of a permanent immigration commission to study the effects of past and especially future immigration were other recommendations.

Russian Situation Bad

Ally Officials Fearful of Bolshevik Triumph in Southern War Area

Constantinople.—The situation in Southern Russia is so uncertain that the allied officials are fearful of a general Bolshevik triumph, more, however, through the internal dissensions than the entrance of Red forces from the outside.

General Schilling is at Sebastopol commanding the volunteer forces which held the Crimean isthmus.

The surrounding lagoons are frozen hard, however, and it is feared the Bolsheviks may approach on the ice.

Sebastopol harbor is cluttered with useless shipping. Ten thousand persons are registered wishing to get away, while 12,000 more are on ships from Odessa without adequate food or medicine. Typhus is raging among the refugees. It is impossible to take away the population, as commanders of allied warships in the harbor apparently lack authority for such action.

An agreement has been reached between General Denikine and the Cossack supreme council. The Terek Cossacks are giving their wholehearted support, but the Don and Kuban Cossacks are making reservations which will weaken the anti-Bolshevik strength and will make the Crimean situation doubtful.

Canada's Favorable Outlook

Duke of Devonshire Paints a Bright Picture of Future of Dominion

Ottawa.—That Canada has every reason to be gratified with the present outlook, more particularly now that educationists were attacking the heavy task of carrying on a huge campaign to deepen and strengthen the moral and spiritual factors in national education, was the keynote of a speech delivered by the Duke of Devonshire, Governor-General of Canada, to the delegates to the National Council of Education here.

Dr. Farnham, of Quebec, urged for a serious consideration of the bilingual question. If they were to have peace and harmony it was absolutely necessary that they give the French-Canadians the right to preserve their mother tongue.

British Navy Can Cope With any Emergency

Manchester Guardian Rides Idea of Amalgamating the Ships Built

London.—Discussing editorially Admiral Jellicoe's tour, the Manchester Guardian says it exerted a good deal of controversy in Canada, where the newspapers said that this might suggest a special building program for the Dominion and a plan for amalgamating the ships built with the British navy if the emergency should arise.

"We don't believe that any such foolish scheme is contemplated," continues the Guardian. "No emergency to begin with, is conceivable with which the British navy is not amply adequate to cope, and even if it were not so, the method of shaping and directing naval policy from Whitehall for the dominions would be the worst imaginable to meet the need. It cannot be too clearly realized the tremendous help which the British overseas nations have accorded to the allied cause. So far from making the centralization, the imperial policy has given the separate members of the Commonwealth a title as they never before held toward their own destination."

"While the Dominion policy is against the inclusion as units in the plans of imperialism, and there could be no graver error of autarkism at this time than to imagine they would meet a scheme for putting armed forces at the disposal of the imperial council with anything but profound suspicion."

Nurses Arrive From Siberia

San Francisco.—One hundred and forty American Red Cross workers arrived here from Siberia on the army transport Great Northern. Women members of the party told of their experiences with cholera at Harbin. From Harbin they went to the foothills of the Ural mountains and aided in the evacuation of the thousands of children.

Quebec.—An order-in-council has been passed by the Quebec government raising the transfer bonus for timber limits to $20 per mile, or fraction of a mile.

Now Expected Ex-Kaiser Will Be Interned in Holland

The Hague.—The Dutch press, although inclined to resent what one newspaper calls a display of bad temper in the rather sharp wording of some parts of the second allied note with regard to the former German emperor, in its comment generally takes the view that these parts are intended only for home consumption, and that the real meaning of the note is that Holland is simply asked to prevent William from interfering with the peace of the world.

The government, the newspapers say, is undoubtedly pleased that the allies did not attempt to dictate the special peace of permanent. The general feeling is that the incident will be speedily settled, with Holland's expected offer to intern William at Doorn.

Hope to Secure New Beer Bill Trenton, N.J.—In the hope of securing a beer bill for New Jersey that would stand the United States supreme court test, Senator Pilgrin, of Essex, on behalf of the Republicans in control of the legislature, introduced a measure localizing the manufacture, sale and transportation in New Jersey of beverages of 275 per cent. alcohol by weight, which would be about 3.00 per cent. by volume.

HEART SO BAD WAS NOT SAFE TO LEAVE HER ALONE

Miss Eva P. Yalcman, Kruken-dorf, Ont., writes and tells you of the benefit I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. About four years ago I was taken terribly bad with my heart, nerves and fainting spells, and was down to bed for about six months. I doctored with two different doctors and seemed to get better, although the fainting spells would not leave me. I would take such terrible falls, wherever I was, that it was not safe to leave me at home at any time. At last I decided to resort to proprietary medicines and took several different kinds, but seemed to receive but little benefit from them. One day noticing the advertisement of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I decided to try them, and before I had taken more than two boxes I could see they were helping me. I have taken about ten boxes, and am almost cured of those terrible spells. I sincerely feel that your medicine has proved a blessing to me, and I advise any one troubled with their heart to try them, as I am confident they will find relief.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers or direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Market For Toys In Great Britain

A Splendid Opportunity If Canadian Manufacturers Can Supply Demand
Toys sold on the English market at the present time have not reached a very high degree of excellence, and as the prices are very high, Canadian manufacturers have a splendid opportunity to sell large quantities in Great Britain, according to a Canadian Government trade report. The report adds that while Germany will undoubtedly be an important competitor in the British market, the manufacturers of that country will probably confine their attention as in the past to the cheaper grades of toys. In the latter class of toys (Canadians should find their opportunity).

A cent up or down in the wholesale price of hides makes a difference of 14 cents a hundredweight for the beef. In old-fashioned butchering hides were often partly spoiled. In modern packing eight or ten experts take off each hide. This specialisation gives a better grade leather and enables the farmer to get a better price for livestock than the local butcher can pay.

THE BEST TONIC FOR NERVOUS PEOPLE

Increase Your Nervous Energy by Building Up the Blood With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Nervous people who have not yet developed a disease that can be recognized and treated by the medical profession have the greatest trouble in finding relief. Irritation, headache, sleeplessness, nervous indigestion, all these discomforts make life miserable but are endured rather than run a doctor's bill without hope of recovery. Every such sufferer should know the danger of such a condition to the nervous system. Nervous debility and even paralysis may result if the tone of the nerves is not restored by building up the blood. As a tonic for the blood and nerves, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been used with the greatest success. They have a direct action on the blood and therefore enable it to carry the nervous elements they need to fully restore their normal function—and at the same time improve the general health. The benefits that follow the use of this medicine, is shown by the statement of Mrs. Jenny Harter, R.R. No. 3, Port Rowan, a well known school teacher, who says—"Some years ago I became greatly fatigued and was in this condition for nearly a year. A doctor whom I called in said I was suffering from complete nervous prostration. It would hardly be possible to tell all the symptoms of my case, but anyone who has passed through a nervous breakdown will know what I suffered. As I did not seem to improve under the doctor's treatment, I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and the decision was a fortunate one for me, as I soon found some relief through the use of the pills, and after taking eight boxes I was fully restored to health. To-day I am strong and healthy, without an ache or pain, and for my present physical condition I feel I am indebted to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and can heartily recommend them to anyone suffering from nervous troubles." You can procure Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or they will be sent you by mail at 50 cents a box or three boxes for $2.50 by writing direct to The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ontario.

Saskatchewan Municipalities Intend to Persevere in the Face of Losses
While the history of the Saskatchewan Municipal Insurance Association has not been at all encouraging, the farmers are showing a disposition to persevere and hope for better times in the future, when a few years of freedom from hailstorms will enable the association to build up a reserve, something which so far they have failed to accomplish. Up to date, the association has been notified of only four rural municipalities which have decided to withdraw from the association, thus leaving 120 municipalities which still place their faith in municipal hail insurance on the assessment plan.

HOW TO "BE FIT" AT SIXTY

BY DR. LEE HERBERT SMITH.

As our boys "came marching home," they brought a certain red-blooded doctrine, and showed us the glory of a perfect body. They will show us how to "keep fit," even if we have passed middle life and are beyond the athletic stage. For the tired business man, the man who feels the daily grind and the nightly fag, has meager appetite, headaches, nerves unstrung, is gloomy, ending in a soggy brain, try the right way. Get out of bed, open the window, breathe deeply, exercise the army "setting-up" exercise or use dumb bells, until in a warm glow.
Before breakfast take hot water, and occasionally castor oil or a pleasant laxative made up of May-apple, aloin, jalap, and sold by all druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

As Prof. Strauss says, "The excretion of uric acid we are able to effect by exciting diuresis." Drink copiously of soft rain or distilled water, six or eight glasses per day; hot water before meals, and obtain Anurio Tablets, double strength, for 50 cts., at the nearest drug store and take them three times a day. If you want a trial package send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.
"Anurio" (anti-uric-acid) is the recent discovery of Dr. Pierce and is much more potent than lithia, for it will dissolve uric acid as hot tea dissolves sugar.

WHY YOU SHOULD BUILD ONLY FROM PLANS

Every building you put up this year and from now on should figure largely in your future.

Whether it be a new house or only a machine shed to will help you make money by saving it.

Just how much it will help depends on how well it fits into your needs now and later.

WHATEVER YOU DECIDE TO BUILD GET A PLAN FOR IT, WE MAKE THEM FREE.

And just because it is a FREE service don't think that it isn't worth anything.

These plans are made to fit your ideas and your needs. They are made so that your buildings will be strong and durable and cost the least that they can be made to cost and be built right.

The G.W.N.A. will give a dance in the New Opera House Friday evening, March 5; admission including supper, $1.50 per couple. The boys are making an effort to raise sufficient money to equip a nice club room in Didsbury, and as this would not be for the sole use of returned men, but for everyone, hearty, material support should be extended.

On Wednesday, Feb. 25, Cassandra Rebekah Lodge No. 35, entertained the hockey boys. The evening was spent in dancing and card playing after which a delicious lunch was served, all present enjoying themselves thoroughly. While dancing was in progress word was received from Calgary announcing the defeat of Olds by Carstairs, which was received very enthusiastically.

The G.W.N.A. boys were going to ask the ladies to furnish refreshments at the dance Friday evening, but it was not necessary as the ladies beat the boys to it and requested permission to supply the treats. The boys, while in France, appreciated the efforts of the women of Canada in making life as pleasant as possible under the circumstances, and the ladies of Didsbury may be assured that their free hearted assistance in any G.W.N.A. undertaking is just as thoroughly appreciated.
